Atlantic-South Civics Protests Speeding on South Grove Street

Worden E. Winne Tells Of Work of L. I. Humane Association and Shelter

Complaints of speeding on South Grove st., below Atlantic ave., were made at the monthly meeting of the Atlantic-South Civic Association Thursday night in the South Short Yacht Club. Several members said that after passing the last red light at Atlantic ave., motorists set sail for the foot of the street without regard to pedestrians or anything else. It was voted to call the matter to the attention of the Police Department with a request for action.

Other complaints were voiced concerning the location of an auto-wrecking concern on South Main st., on town owned land, which is moving to Freeport from Hempstead. No action was taken concerning the matter.

Former Mayor Worden E. Winne gave a talk on the Long Island Humane and Dog Protective Assn., after President James H. Cruikshank had been introduced by Victor C. Wade who presided in the absence of President W. E. Watson. The association voted to commend the Village Board for retaining the society as dog warden for the community.

Objects of Society

"The Long Island Humane and Dog Protective Association, Inc. is a charitable and benevolent corporation engaged in the business of providing homes for lost, strayed and homeless dogs, and of a dog protective association, and for the enforcement of the laws for the prevention of cruelty to animals."

Mr. Winne said:

"The Association was organized by a small group of individuals headed by James H. Cruikshank in 1938. It was incorporated on June 6, 1939 under the name of Long Island Humane Society. In the year after and on Feb. 10, 1947, the name was changed to the Long Island Humane and Dog Protective Association, Inc."

"Since that time it has continued to function under Mr. Cruikshank's leadership, holding its monthly meetings at his home, 178 South Ocean ave., and has been actively engaged in the operation of the business for which it was organized, having a present membership of approximately 800."

"No officer, member or employee of the Association receives or is entitled to receive any pecuniary profits from the operations of the Association."

"In Sept., 1947, the Association (Continued on Page 8)

Police to Canvass Town To Sell Tickets for Show

Members of the Police Benevolent Association are to make a house-to-house canvass to sell tickets for the all star show to be presented at the Municipal Stadium Wednesday night. The event is for the welfare work of the association, co-sponsored by Patrolman Robert Duncan, the president and his associates want to make it as big a success as possible. It is to be one of the greatest shows ever staged in Freeport, and that is saying a lot, considering the days of the Lights Club when a performance could be put on at any time during the off season at a moment's notice.

Forty girls from Freeport and vicinity, entered the contest for the selection of a Queen to reign over the show. Guy Lombardo, Joe Adams, Herbert Sheldon and former Mayor Cyril C. Ryan were judges when the queen was chosen Tuesday night at the Grove Theatre.

Parking Meters Netted $48,239 First Year; Fines Totalled $8,306

Parking meters paid for themselves during the first year of their operation ending on Aug. 1, netting the village $48,239.11. They also yielded $8,306 in fines paid by persons given "tickets" for overtime parking.

The receipts from fines, however, go to the State to be placed in the general fund. Freeport will eventually get a share of the money back, as it is divided among the counties, towns and villages, but hardly the amount collected here.

Early last year the Village Board issued tax anticipation notes in the amount of $35,000, the cost of installing the parking meters, so that the $48,239 taken in pennies and dimes was $13,239 in excess of the total cost of the meters, thought it did not cover other expenses incidental to the operation of the contrivances. The notes were paid off in full before the fiscal year ended on Feb. 28, last.

May produced the largest income from the meters, amounting to $4,874.23. In June, when the night hour-for-requiring motorists to pay for the privilege of parking was changed from 9 to 6 o'clock, the receipts dropped to $3,624.53, and then increased to $3,862.88 for July.

January was the most productive month in the matter of fines with $1,141, while July was $1,134, just $7 behind. The amount for June was only $675.

The figures by months were as follows:

Month	Meters	Fines
Aug.	$1,177.82	$12
Sept.	3,906.24	532
Oct.	3,803.58	354
Nov.	4,611.29	701
Dec.	3,982.44	466
Jan.	3,275.21	1,156
Feb.	3,332.40	1,156
Mar.	3,841.45	808
April	3,946.11	750
May	4,874.23	737
June	3,624.53	675
July	3,862.88	1,134
Totals	$48,239.11	$8,306

Sewer District 11 Assessments Fixed; $8.88 Front Footage

Cost was $131,019; 282 Parcels Included In the Southeast Area

Assessments to be paid by property owners in Lateral Sewer District 11, taking in Sportsmans ave., Garfield pl., Arthur st., Cornelius st., Gordon pl., President st., and Bedell st., were fixed by the Sewer Commission at a meeting held in the Municipal Building Monday night.

The total cost of the work in the district was placed at $131,019.75, and the levy was based on a charge of approximately $8.88 a front foot for 282 individual plots in the district.

Taxpayers will have 30 days in which to decide whether to pay the assessments in full or to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the village to spread the installments over 15 years with interest.

The assessments were voted after a hearing called by the commission but no one appeared to oppose their adoption.

Leo Fishel, chairman of the commission, was reported seriously ill at his home 44 Onslow pl. Michael J. Coffey presided in his absence.

Upsets Feature Week In Jones Beach Softball

The Jones Beach Softball League play the past week proved to be one for the underdogs. Several teams lay in the standings came through to upset the league leaders to tighten up the race.

Acme Bowling, now in eighth place defeated the Royal A C Team and then went on to trounce the league-leading Bellmore Team by a score of 14-9. This upset put Bellmore into second place and enabled the idle Republic Aviation Team to move into the league leadership.

Another interesting sidelight in league play is the winning streak of the Wright's Hardware Team, who after losing their first two contests, won four straight before losing to the Floral Park Bombers.

A new leading batter came to the fore this week. Chick Collins, hard hitting second baseman of the Acme Bowling Team, has pushed his season average to .462. Al Wolfe, previous leader, slipped into second position with a BA of .444.

Legion to Again Sponsor Soapbox Derby Labor Day

The annual soap box derby for boys between the ages of 7 and 12, sponsored by the William Clinton Story Post, A.M., will be held prior to the afternoon's stock car racing program of the Kenedburg Racing Association at the Municipal Stadium, Labor Day afternoon.

Entries for the derby contestants will be accepted at the Legion dusk cut-off by Mr. Kenedburg at the Stadium starting at once. Entrants are permitted pushers as old as 17.

Merchants Ass'n To Sponsor Annual Event Tomorrow

Throngs Flock Here To Take Advantage of Real Bargains Offered

Dollar Day is to be observed tomorrow (Thursday) by the stores of the village under the sponsorship of the Freeport Merchants Association of which Irving Grebnar is president. A large committee is working to make the day a success.

Dollar Day is one of the biggest annual events in Freeport. People come from miles around to take advantage of the exceptional values always offered by the local merchants. Store keepers here have established a reputation for offering real bargains, no hand-me-downs on Dollar Day.

People begin to line up at the various stores long before opening time, knowing that it being a case of first come first served, the early shopper gets the best buys. There are stores where it is necessary for the proprietors to admit a limited number into their places of business at a time so as to permit the normal operation of business.

Some of the best buys are listed in the advertisements printed elsewhere in this paper. The observance of Dollar Day will display the official emblem in their windows.

At Hospital Auxiliary Party

Unqua Swimmers Beat South Shore 66 to 51; Meet Held In Amityville.

In the second of a series of inter-club aquatic meets, in Amityville, the youthful swimmers of the Unqua-Corinthian Yacht Club Saturday defeated those of the South Shore Yacht Club by a count of 66 to 51 points.

This was an improvement over the previous encounter when the Freeports lost by a 72 to 46 count, and they now trail on the total for the two events by 138 to 97.

South Shore Yacht Club is handicapped this year by the lack of swimmers in the 15-17 year age group, due to the fact that those who won so many events in this bracket last year are now too old to compete for the club. Consequently the unqua-Corinthians ran away with these events, including the two relay races, so the Freeport's superiority in the classes for younger swimmers could not make up for the handicap.

Freeport swept the event for girls, 11-12, free style, with Pat Steenken, Betty Conboy and Laura Nethercliff finishing first, second and third respectively. The boys in the 9-10 year free style group did likewise, Don Ghegan winning, with Don McDuffee taking second place, and Gene Keener third. The same was true of the girls, 9-10 years free style group, with Gall Haughey, Susan Price and Susan Kenny, finishing in the order named.

They scored four out of a possible six points in the girls, 15-17, free style, won by Charlotte Carver, the boys, 13-14, free style, taken by Peter Woods, the boys, 13-14, breast stroke, in which Woods repeated, and the girls, 13-14, back stroke, in which Laura Nethercliff finished first.

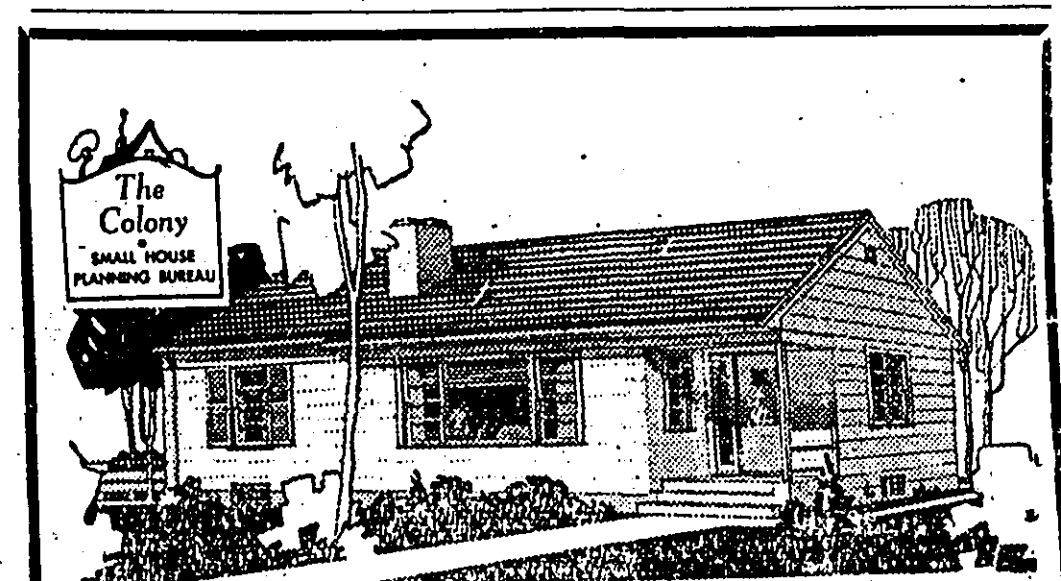

In four other events they scored three points, indicating that things will be different in the years to come as the younger swimmers become old enough to fill the gaps in the events for the older group.

The Sea Cliff Yacht Club squad will come to Freeport for a meet Saturday afternoon.

Wickersham to Call For Volunteers Soon

Civil Defense Head Will Need Men for Numerous Activities

So many have been the offers of those who want to help in Nassau's Civil Defense that Lt. Gen. Cornelius W. Wickersham, director, this week urged volunteers of "stand by" because the "CD" organization is fast getting to the point where general recruitment for scores of services will give all an opportunity to be of help in the protection of Nassau County.

Said General Wickersham: "The offers of service from all parts of the county are indeed most encouraging. We will soon be ready to accept volunteers for the many Civil Defense duties that will have to be carried out.

"These will include wardens, auxiliary police, auxiliary firemen, rescue squads, medical and nursing services, decontamination squads, guides, evacuation services, motor transport, air patrol, public works and utilities, welfare agencies, courier and messenger services and other forces.

"Organization plans are proceeding at rapid pace and with the aid of the established county departments of government, towns and villages.

"Nassau County will be prepared! We will be complete to meet not only our own emergencies, but to carry out such duties as may be called on to perform by State and Federal authorities.

"Civil Defense committees are now being mobilized in the villages throughout the county and in certain of the unincorporated areas, including Levittown and Baldwin. Organization in other unincorporated areas will follow appointments of directors.

"I would request all volunteers to get in touch with their local officials or approved Civil Defense committees and to watch their local newspapers for information which will be given out just as soon as possible."

Richard Mayer Named Youth of the Month

Richard Mayer, valedictorian of the June graduating class of the Freeport High School, was honored as the "youth of the month" at this week's luncheon of the Freeport Exchange Club in Guy Lombardo's East Point House. He was presented a certificate indicating his fact. He had the highest Regents rating of any valedictorian in the past 11 years.

Mayer served as editor-in-chief of the schools news service staff, was a member of the Science Club for three years, president during his senior year, and a member of the Flushing staff also. He was on the assembly committee and the Triangle Forum Club.

Columbus Boys, Archer Girls Retain Lead In Playground Point Competition

The Columbus ave. boys and the Seaman girls continued to hold the lead in the point competition of the vacation playgrounds at the end of the week with 1,830 and 1,025 points respectively. In the former group, Seaman was a close second, 1,785 points, with Archer third, 1,565, and Cleveland fourth, 785. Among the girls, the standing was Archer second, 875; Columbus third, 800, and Cleveland, 525.

Due to the fact that two days of rain curtailed activities, only the shuffle board championships were decided.

Improved Health Leads To Death Rate Decline

Military and industrial man power in the United States has been built up materially since the start of World War II by improvement in public health and the related decline in death rates, according to Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. statisticians.

Never in the country's history have health conditions been more favorable than during the first half of 1950, the statisticians report. This is shown by the experience among the company's millions of industrial policyholders, for whom mortality was the same as the all-time low recorded in the like period of last year.

Spectacular improvement is shown in the death rate for tuberculosis and for pneumonia and influenza, which are among the leading causes of death at the ages from which our military strength and the bulk of our industrial man power is drawn. Since 1942 the death rates from these causes for the first half of each year have declined by nearly one half, that for tuberculosis from 41.6 per 100,000 in 1942 to 22.9 in 1950, and for pneumonia and influenza from 40.6 to 21.9.

Despite a widespread epidemic of respiratory disease early in the year, new low death rates for tuberculosis and for pneumonia and influenza were recorded among the policyholders for the first six months of 1950.

Mon. J. J. Mahon Honored at Dinner Attended by Friends from far and Wide

Friends from far and wide gathered to do honor to Rt. Rev. John J. Mahon at a dinner and reception in the South Shore Yacht Club Thursday night to mark his elevation to the rank of monsignor. They came from Brooklyn, Inwood, Baldwin and out east where Mons. Mahon had pastored before being placed in charge of Our Holy Redeemer Church here. There were 475 at the dinner, over which the Rev. John J. Madden presided as toastmaster. And Gustav J. Berkel on behalf of the united societies of the church presented the guest of honor a substantial purse.

The speakers included two of Mons. Mahon's oldest friends, Mons. Thomas Monahan, of St. Paul's Church, Jersey City, an acquaintance for 57 years and Mons. John of this modest man," to the rank of a domestic prelate. He spoke of the millions that have been brought into vital relationship with his Lord during the more than fifty-one years he has served in the priesthood.

Richard G. Hungerford, past Grand Knight of Bishop Molloy Council, K. of C., spoke for the men of the parish. He said every priest was taken from among men to administer the things of God, and that he gloried in the honor that had been bestowed on "Father Mahon, one of us." He expressed pleasure that the Pope had recognized the greatness of one of our own to raise him to the dignity of a domestic prelate with the title of monsignor, and said he hoped for many years of Mons. Mahon's spiritual guidance.

For the women, Mrs. Alfred Fassino, said she earnestly hoped and prayed "our good Father will bless you with good health for many years to come."

Mons. Monahan, introduced as Mons. Mahon's "longest and dearest friend," told of how he and the guest of honor arrived in Rome several days apart in 1893 to study for the priesthood in the American college and were assigned to the same camerata, or group. He added that the then Mr. Mahon was quite a violinist, while he played the piano, so the two teamed up to provide music for their associates.

Mons. Mahon was honored and respected on matter where he was, the Jersey priest continued, "even within the precincts of the Vatican itself." He also told how young Mahon had looked forward as a boy to being a priest so "he might administer to men in things that pertain to God."

The Rev. Martin T. Daly, a former local assistant, added his tribute, followed by Mons. Robinson, who referred to the ability of Mons. Mahon to make friends and mentioned the parishes in which he had served during his 51 years as a priest.

Replying to all the compliments paid him, Mons. Mahon said they were very encouraging and heart warming. "Needless to say," he added, "you've made me happy tonight. And I think you are happier than I am."

Among those introduced were Miss Marie C. Curry, state deputy of the Catholic Daughters of America; Matthew T. Kennedy, state deputy, Knights of Columbus; John J. Muldowney, grand knight, Bishop Molloy Council, K. of C.; Julius A. Alber, president of the Holy Name Society; Miss Margaret O'Keefe, grand regent, Court Stella Maris, C.D. of A.; Sheriff H. Alfred Vollmer, Frank Constantino of the St. Rocco Society; Mrs. Charles Blewett, president of the Altar Society; J. J. Muldowney, Jr., president of the Alpha Omega Club; Mrs. William Mullooly, of the Holy Redeemer Players Guild; Mrs. James Usioke, president of the school auxiliary, Eugene Hurley, the Rev. John J. Drab, Michael J. Coffey, Thomas F. Dougherty, Mrs. Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony

Christian Science

"Soul" is the lesson-sermon subject for Sunday at 11 A.M., in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, West Merrick rd., at Elm pl. The golden text is "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him" (Lamentations 3:24). The sermon will be from Isaiah 26: 4, 5, 9 and 13, King James version.

During the dinner entertainment was provided by the Redeemer Players. Robert Ney sang "Londonderry Air," Hedy Milenski, selections from "The Merry Widow," Thomas Chester and John Healey, "Dear Heart" and "Gentle People," Vincent Blitram, "You're in My Heart Alone," and the Rev. John F. Bukey, pastor of the Church of the Most Holy Rosary, Roosevelt, various selections, accompanied by Mrs. Josephine Copolino, organist of the church. Mrs. William J. Martin, sr., also accompanied several of the singers. Following the dinner Mrs. Copolino played for dancing. Henry J. Denzel and Miss O'Keefe presided until the toastmaster took over.

"Trust ye in the Lord for ever: for in the Lord JEHOVAH is everlasting strength: Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O Lord, have we waited for thee; the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee. With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness. O Lord our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name."

Mansperger Buys 66-Acre Farm In West Virginia As Future Home

Looking forward some years to the time when he retires, Principal Martin M. Mansperger of the Freeport High School, this week at Romney, W. Va., took title to a 66-acre farm which is on a hill plateau, three miles north of that community. The farm is surrounded on three sides by mountain ridges belonging to the Shenandoah Mountain Range.

"This is the dream farm which you have dreamed about, and often hoped for but never really expected to find," Mr. Mansperger wrote to a friend. "As is indicated, this farm lies for the most part on a hill plateau in a valley through which the south branch of the Potomac River flows. Coming south from Cumberland, Md., on Route 28, you cross a mountain range, just as you enter the valley one mile north of our farm. To the east there are only mountains covered with forests. For more than 40 miles there are no human inhabitants in these mountains. They are recognized as a human paradise.

"A hunter may find everything from deer and bear to wild turkeys in these mountains. To the South, the Potomac River winds its way to a peaceful valley of fertile farms which have been farmed by natives of this area for several generations. "Romney, with mountains in the distance, completes the picture. This is a sight which is not entirely forgotten. To the west is another mountain range on which the sun sets each and every day. "Yes, this is our dream farm."

The Mansperger's plan to make this their permanent home.

Principal Mansperger stopped at Romney after attending the seventh bi-ennial reunion of Mansperger Families of America, Inc., on the Muskingum County Fair Grounds, Zanesville, O., over which Martin M. Mansperger, II, presided as president. The invocation was given by Dr. Arlie R. Mansperger, chaplain. Principal Mansperger, the first president, and now genealogist gave some remarks. Reports were given by Wilbur V. Mansperger, Calvin, Pa., treasurer; Mrs. John McFarland, Cambridge, O., secretary; and Mrs. Nellie Kandel, Finley, O., editor of the Mansperger News.

Musical numbers included a saxophone solo, Harold Mansperger, York Springs, Pa.; vocal duet, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crist, Thornville, O.; selections by an instrumental quartet comprising Bonnie, Carolyn and Joyce Eismann and Hester Brown, Akron, O. There also was a tap dance by the Eismann sisters; and "Auf Wiedersehen" was sung at the adjournment.

A special feature of the day's program was the showing of a sound film, "All Together" recently by March of Time for the National Junior Red Cross. This was filmed largely in Freeport several years ago and Mr. Mansperger has a speaking part in it.

Duncan To Broadcast On Plans for P.B.A. Show

Appeals to Drivers to Watch Traffic Signs

Capt. J. M. Hogan Tells Necessity of Careful Operation of Autos

"You can't shrug off traffic signs," Capt. J. M. Hogan told Freeport's drivers today as the Safety Council's August program of traffic safety education moved into its tenth day.

"You can bet your bottom dollar," he said, "that every traffic sign and signal you pass on the highway has a definite reason for being where it is. The hospitals and cemeteries are full of ex-drivers who shrugged off some sign on the mistaken notion that whoever put it there didn't know what he was doing."

A great many intersections having "Stop" signs are deceptively safe-looking, according to the National Safety Council, but have a bloody history behind them that necessitated the original installation of these controls, the Council reports.

In the same way, each speed limit and warning sign is a silent testimonial to days and weeks of investigation and testing by traffic experts in their efforts to determine at what speed, and under what conditions, the road may be safely traveled. "Entering into this are studies of the road's surface; what effects various weather-conditions have on it; topography of the country through which the road travels; principles of inertia and other factors that seldom occur to the average driver."

"No traffic sign or signal," Capt. Hogan said, "is thrown up at random simply because it is found lying around in the sign shop."

The Safety Commission in its efforts, this month, to impress motorists with the importance of obeying signs and signals, is co-operating with the National Safety Council and the Freeport Police Department.

Emil R. Schneider Buried in Greenfield

The Rev. Frank Vulture officiated at funeral services Friday afternoon in the Thomas M. Quinn & Sons' parlors, North Main st., for Emil R. Schneider, who died at his home, 73 Faynor st., Tuesday, Aug. 1, after an illness of twelve years. Burial followed in Greenfield Cemetery, Hempstead.

Mr. Schneider was born in Brooklyn, 78 years ago, and had lived in Freeport for more than 35 years. He formerly was in the painting and decorating business for himself. Surviving are his wife, Rose Slanar; two sons, George W., of Freeport, and Theodore E., of Merrick; a granddaughter, Mary Kurtz, of Belmore; and a great grandson, George Kurtz.

"Claudia" Presented At Centre Playhouse

Estelle Luttrell of Rockville Centre Has Title Role in Comedy

The Centre Playhouse, the new year-round theatre in Rockville Centre, opened its second production with the comedy "Claudia" by Rose Franklin, Tuesday night, with Estelle Luttrell, a resident of Rockville Centre, in the title role.

Use Stanley, producing director of the Centre Playhouse, auditioned several actresses for the part of Claudia, including Miss Luttrell, one of her pupils.

Needless to say, Estelle was more than scared to get up in competition with the highly professional company of the Centre Playhouse. Then the miracle that happens once in a while in theatre occurred. The young actress came through with flying colors and won the title role.

Use Stanley explains that she is always ready to put more work in when she sees real talent that has to be developed and she considers Estelle Luttrell a talent who within acquired a plot of ground in the Village of Freeport, at the intersection of Ryder pl. and Hansé ave., for the price of $2,500 for the purpose of erecting a dog shelter thereon, in which it could carry on the operation of its business.

Shelter Constructed
"Groundbreaking ceremonies were held on Sept. 25, 1949 and the building was started the next day with Harry L. Gillen as contractor. The architect for the building was Edmund Luntley, Jr., and the plans were drawn by Hans Morelli of his office.

The contract price of the building was $91,000; in addition to which the Association was obligated to expend $200 for extra fill and $150 for an additional pipe line to the treatment room. The contract price did not include runs, cages, refrigerator, cooking stove and other incidental equipment, all of which have now been installed and paid for, either from Association funds or contributions of the members.

The erection of the shelter was made possible by an extremely generous donation of $11,000 from an anonymous donor.

Fund for Cages Started

$200 was donated several years ago by Mrs. Marguerite D. Ravenscroft for cages, which has been used for that purpose. Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cruikshank donated one unit of eight cages. Other donations for cages were received from various members, including a donation of $100 from Mrs. Thomas J. Gillen. The cost of each unit of 8 cages was approximately $210, without installation. The building is now equipped with 57 cages, 48 used for dogs and 9 for cats, all as a result of these donations.

The coffers of the building fund were augmented by a brick drive, which resulted in contributions of approximately $2,125; by rummage sales held during 1949 in which $560 was realized; an outdoor supper party held at the home of Mrs. Louis Vogeney in Merrick, at which $167.50 was realized; the annual pet show held in Baldwin in which profit of $372.50 was netted, as well as anti-vivisection stamps mailed to the members, in which $268.50 was realized.

"In addition the annual card party at Sardi's in November earned a profit of $350. The success of these events was made possible by the hard-working committees and the cooperation and contributions of the members.

Cost of Membership
"Prior to the erection of the shelter these stray and homeless dogs were boarded in kennels. The number became so great that the Association was not in a financial position to continue this expense, whereupon it was taken over by Mr. Cruikshank who paid the same personally for approximately 3 years, and continues to do so.

"The regular meetings of the Association are held on the last Monday of every month at the home of President Cruikshank.

"The cost of membership in the Association is as follows:
"Life membership—$25.00; sustaining membership—$5.00; individual membership—$1.00.

"The Association employs Frank Hohman as a dogwarden, who lives at the shelter with his wife and son. Mr. Hohman has an assistant, a young man 17 years of age who is employed regularly except Sundays.

"In May of this year, the Association entered into a contract with the Village of Freeport to act as dog warden for the Village, at a fee of $1800 to $2400 per annum, depending upon the number of dogs picked up.

"Mr. Cruikshank has requested me to state that the public is cordially invited to inspect the shelter, which is open to the public at all times between the hours of 9 A.M. and 5 P.M.

"They always have on hand a good assortment of dogs and cats for adoption. There is no charge for any dog adopted, except the Association does expect a small contribution.

Morris E. Brush and Mrs. Allen Williamson were welcomed as members.

$7,074 Raised Here In Red Cross Drive

March Campaign Figures Show 15 Percent Raise Over Last Year's Total

With final reports on the 1950 Red Cross fund raising drive of last March just in, Freeport raised $7,074.28, approximately 15 more than for 1949. Mrs. Leon N. Swisher, chairman of the local branch, announced today. Ray E. Clements was chairman of the campaign as he was a year ago.

Employees of the New York Telephone Co. have given the fund drive a $4,558 boost. John T. Pratt, Jr., fund raising chairman of the county ABC Chapter, announced.

A check for the phone workers' contributions has been received at the Red Cross Chapter House in Hampton, phone company vice-president and general manager, explained it covered donations made during the drive by the company's personnel who live in Nassau. He included a breakdown of the total according to villages in which the contributors lived.

Each village will be credited with Minicola, Mr. Pratt said: W. G. the amounts listed against its quota in the campaign, Pratt added:

"The Red Cross is doubly grateful to the men and women of the telephone company for their generous gifts because the fighting in the East now makes necessary to step up Red Cross activities both with the Armed Forces and here on the home front," he added.

The campaign under Pratt's direction was launched on March 1 and the county's $274,000 goal was reached on April 27. The contribution of the telephone workers brings the total of the 1950 drive to $293,000, which is about $10,000 more than was reached the previous year at this time.

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY Librarian, Freeport Memorial Library

Those who have read "Book of Stillmeadow" and "Harvest at Stillmeadow" will welcome Gladys Taber's new volume "Stillmeadow Seasons." As a "Country Woman," Mrs. Taber writes refreshingly of the seasons as each takes its place in the year's pattern. She describes the old house in Connecticut, built in 1690 in which the family has lived for more than fifteen years, amid the meadows and orchards, which have been left to their natural existence.

"As the seasons come to our gentle valley," writes Mrs. Taber, "Stillmeadow is always or personal adventure in happiness." A kennel full of cockers might cause confusion and consternation in many families, especially if a setter and a Siamese cat were added, for good measure. At Stillmeadow there are problems, to be sure, but each is solved as the hours and days pass. The villagers take a special interest in Maeve, the red setter, and phone the Tabers, whenever she has cleared the fence and has lured Linda to follow her "beautiful flying feet," in search of adventure.

In winter the Obedience Club meets indoors so training is continued throughout the year. Two groups are given two kinds of discipline within an armory, where the classes are held with only a narrow bench separating them. Young boys follow the commands of their sergeant, dogs following the orders of their trainers. Mrs. Taber adds "It is all such a fine thing—provided it is only discipline and exercise and with the idea of a new war in mind."

All seasons bring pleasures as well as hard work. During the summers, there are picnics, and pleasant evenings along with gardening, home freezing, and canning of foods as special projects. In Fall and Winter the family's interests change, bringing satisfaction in a different sort of way. And then there is Spring! That is where Mrs. Taber begins her story. Chapter one begins, "Nothing about country life moves one more than spring plowing."

Jewish Women Entertain At Homestead Town Home

Delighted members of the East Nassau Section of the National Council of Jewish Women paid its monthly visit to the Homestead Town Home for the Aged in Uniondale Monday afternoon. The visitors joined with the members of the home in community singing. Bingo was played and refreshments served. Mrs. Ethel Frank, of Merrick, is chairman of the committee in charge of these monthly visits.

A meeting of the Board of directors, was held yesterday with Mrs. Joseph Nassau, of Merrick, the president, presiding.

Our Key To Future Security

F. H. S. Commencement address by VIRGINIA CARPENTER

Our system of living together has been achieved after generations of struggle against the doctrine that some men have the inherent right to rule others. It is based on the oldest, written constitution still in force—our own truly American one. And, as you know even better than I, it has been preserved thus far through great realism—great human sacrifice.

What is it that makes social freedom such an important part of our future well-being? Man is naturally a social being. We all like someone else to talk to and walk with, even someone with whom we can argue politics and deplore the changing weather. Men early found that by their joint efforts they could achieve something far greater than they could ever hope to accomplish singly. Social freedom is our most precious—basic—necessity. Now—just what it is? Well you probably bought a Sunday newspaper this morning and read, I am sure, at least two conflicting opinions on the same vital subject.

Many of you went to the movies last night or saw a television show where you rubbed elbows with or were entertained by, I would guess, ten people of different nationalities. You have assembled here to see us graduated, as you have no doubt assembled many times before, to press for some community petition for redress of grievances, or see that justice was carried out. Socially freer, purer conditions from which all other degrees and phases of freedom can ultimately be reached. But freedom must begin with, and extend through the individual. I don't mean that unfortunate fellow to whom things apply, but never to you—I mean you, and you and myself and this class here behind me. The individual is the key to our future security. He is the one hope of the world.

Put in simplest terms, what is anything but the sum total of its composite parts? We have learned that certain species of plants are made up, among other things, of H<sub>2</sub>O, chlorophyll and CO<sub>2</sub>. But the unseen factor in their system of growth is the basic, life-giving substance of sunlight.

Consider this particular world in which we live. It is made up among other things, of families, communities, states and counties. Once again, however, an unseen factor exists upon which our entire system of society is based, without which there would be no life, as we know it, at all—the individual. No, in reality, his position is not sunk in obscurity. A single postulate can be the basis for many theorems—as you and I, individuals all, are the fundamental unit and an integral part of the whole order of life.

The world has in the organization of the U. N. an instrument of vast potentialities for solving the problem of the attainment of social freedom. Here, as nowhere else, is there such a vast complexity of creeds, concepts, nationalities and individuals. Here, as no where else, is the chance to study close at hand the world in operation on a small scale.

The individuals who are so vital a part of the U. N. have great influence for good or evil over their contemporaries. Here we have sent in deepest trust our most gifted men to help in solving the problem of world peace. And yet, I maintain we are ignoring the most fundamental of factors. Our great problem is not one of peaceful control of hydrogen and atomic energy, or world peace primarily, but of human relations. When Socrates said: "Know thyself," he grasped the very essence of what I believe our social freedom is based upon. We must know what we are, and be something before we can influence others for good. We must first attempt to discover ourselves, however, partially, before we can attempt to comprehend the ways of life of others. It is absurd to believe we can lead the way in solving the problems of world peace, when we cannot even solve the internal evils rampant within the U. S. Too, realistic when the crisis is so close at hand? Perhaps so, but it is a goal to be striven for now, or forever lost.

With the future of the physical, godless earth so delicately placed in the balance scales, and with the threat of a third war hanging above our high degree of civilization and progress, it is not strange to hear the most insecure of us question the purpose of constructing a practical future in a world in which they can find no meaning. Unexplained life is not worth living, but self-examination may reveal values that make life meaningful. Everyone here has an intangible obligation to make our own age a little better for having lived as a part of the unending order by which we were created.

I repeat—there is no finer social instrument for social freedom than the U. N. Plato's "Victory of national persuasion over brute force" is the hope of our age, too. It can be attained. That it can be attained we must believe—that we can attain it must be our goal. It is up to every one of us as individuals.

Badge Of Citizenship

A long, long time ago, Americans were respected in any part of the world.

As long as they behaved themselves, they were backed up by the Government against insults or injustices.

Under Theodore Roosevelt, the badge of American citizenship meant something.

Then, gradually, we degenerated in our national policy so that it became the custom for others to insult and trample the rights of Americans abroad.

For the first time, we began to know what it meant to "lose face."

Our entire foreign policy was reversed through a system of "appeasement," refusal to stand up for common rights and justice.

Our pride of citizenship was made a mockery of by envious nations. The more indignities we stood for, the more they were heaped on.

What brought about this change in our national policy?

Without doubt, the infiltration of Reds into key government positions. They sabotaged every effort to stand up for our American rights. They ridiculed us for being old fashioned and straight laced and brought to bear a new concept of human rights and relations.

What to do?

We must learn that the time has come, and is long past due, when Uncle Sam will no longer take it when some bully kicks him in the shins.

We must stand firmly behind a strong foreign policy, and renew our efforts to purge our ranks at home of all subversives.

We must back our decision to the hilt not to be pushed around in Korea.

We must learn the policy of appeasement will not work. Then Americans will again be respected in all parts of the world.

And some day with such determined actions, Americans will again be respected in all parts of the world and the badge of American citizenship will mean something.

The Editor's Notebook

Forty years ago folks boiled coffee and settled it with an egg; the only reds known were red flannels, and a boy didn't think he had to have a vehicle in which to pursue happiness.

People were more interested in the contentment of each other than they were in cows; ladies rode side-saddle, and when the preacher said a truth the people said "amen."

A candidate had to be economy minded to get elected to office, neighbors asked about your family, and meant it; and when a man dressed for the evening he put on his night shirt.

Folks used tooth-picks and were still polite.

Two or three people could meet without passing the hat; parents were the only baby sitters, and men worked for an honest living instead of wishing for one.

A man's word was his bond; Rip Van Winkle slept 20 years and no one asked him to indorse a mattress, and men made the same wife do a lifetime.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir:
The page of pictures of activities at the South Shore Yacht Club was excellent. Your paper is continuing to grow and show a continuing interest in the affairs of Freeport and the surrounding area. I like it so much better than before. . . . keep it up. Mrs. John Carlisle.

Dear Sir:
While your editorials are fine, I do think that a local paper might editorialize more on local happenings than on issues that are more of national and international importance. Don't you agree with me? Mrs. John Boger

Dear Mr. Boger:
Of course, local happenings are very important, but it seems to us that these world events we write about are pretty much local problems too. Whether we like it or not, the war in Korea affects us in our own village. But I know what you mean. . . . When issues arise in Freeport that strike us as being important enough to write an editorial about, believe us, we don't hesitate to write about them.

Dear Sir:
We cannot understand why a village the size of Freeport does not have at least one good sized department store. Hempstead has several as has Garden City and other towns much smaller than Freeport on L.I. have fine department stores that serve the people with a variety of good merchandise. I like very much shopping in a department store where I can find under one roof the many things I seek. What is the matter with Freeport in this respect?
Mrs. R. C.

To the Editor:
Sir, in a recent issue, you printed an item concerning religious groups planning exhibits at the Mineola Fair. You refer to one of them as "Bahai Regional Teaching Committee, an oriental faith." This is not quite accurate. It was an understandable mistake, however. The responsibility of our committee is to assist Bahais with their teaching activities on Long Island and for this reason the committee name is so often given public notice. Actually, we are an arm of the National Spiritual Assembly of the Bahais of the United States which in turn, is part of the world community of Bahais. Bahais can be found in more than 100 countries throughout the world today. The proper name to use when referring to the Faith is "Bahai World Faith." We prefer not to be referred to as "an oriental faith" even though this is correct since it is not customary to refer to the Christian and Jewish religions in this fashion though they, too, are oriental faiths. Religions practiced in the West, almost without exception, are oriental in origin; there is no current, occidental religion. In clarifying this point it is not our intention to deny the origin of the Bahai World Faith, but rather to avoid confused thinking on the part of your readers, since most Westerners are unfamiliar with the confusing facts and terminology which conclude that the term "oriental faith" refers to one of the "cults" which have gained such notoriety in the western part of our country. We do not wish this misconception to continue in connection with the Bahai World Faith.

Bahais believe their religion to be divine in origin, embracing in scope and an explicit fulfillment of the teachings of all divinely revealed religions. By the nature of its fundamental teachings, which are the oneness of God, the oneness of mankind and the oneness of religious truth, it stands as the greatest unifying force in the world today.

Following are the words of Charles H. Prisk, editor of the Pasadena Star News: "Humanity is the better, the nobler, for the Bahai Faith. It is a Faith that enriches the soul; that takes from life its dross. . . . Though not a member of the Bahai Faith, I sense its tremendous potency for good. Ever is it helping to usher in the dawn of the day of 'Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men.'" By the spread of its teachings, the Bahai cause is slowly, yet steadily, making the Golden Rule a practical reality. We hope you will find time to visit our exhibit at the Mineola Fair and examine some of the literature which will be on display.

Respectfully,
Grace E. Behrens

THE FAMILY CIRCLE

THE KISS THAT HEALED

LIFE magazine recently featured the career and passing of Evangeline Booth of the Salvation Army at the age of 84. . . . She had lived a life full of loving deeds.

A great Biographer has said that sometimes a simple incident will reveal the character of a great soul. Here is a story, told by Evangeline Booth herself, that shows the character of a great humanitarian.

"I remember one morning when the sky was getting gray, I stood outside the large iron gates of a local police court. I waited expectantly for the opening of the gate. I heard the shuffling of heavy feet. They came closer, and heavier, then I heard a sound of loud voices, and one especially that got louder and more shrill. It was the voice of a woman. The gates opened wider, and then a sight time never could wash away from my mind. . . . It was a woman. Two policemen walked in front, and two behind while one on either side held her arms. Her hair was uncombed and matted, clots of dry blood stood upon the temple on the left, while her right temple was blackened with bruises. Her clothes were torn and blood stained. She tried to wrench herself from the arms of the policemen, but they held her firmly. The very atmosphere of the morning was laden with her curses and oaths. She tossed her head wildly as the policemen dragged her down the passageway and through the gates.

What could I do? . . . Offer a prayer? No, there was no time. Could I sing? It would have been absurd. . . . Could I give a check? She could not take it. . . . Could I quote a verse of scripture? She could never hear it.

Whether it was an Angel's suggestion or not I never stopped to find out, but the impulse of a burning desire which filled my heart as she passed, made me step quickly forward, and kiss her upon the cheek.

Whether the police were taken by surprise at my extraordinary action, and relaxed their grasp I do not know, but with one wrench she freed her arms, and clasped her hands as the wind spread her matted hair. She looked toward the gray skies and said, "My God . . . who kissed me?" and lifting up her tattered apron she buried her face in her hands and was heard to say, "Nobody has ever kissed me so tenderly since my Mother died."

This poor soul recognized the Master's touch in the kiss placed upon her cheek. The man of Galilee lived in the heart of Evangeline Booth.

She gave her life in His service.

The world will miss her.

Editor's Note:

During the recent illness of Evangeline Booth and her subsequent passing Freeport's Salvation Army worker, Major Ernest W. Newton spent many hours at her bedside for she was his friend for many years. It is through men like Major Newton that the great dream of Evangeline Booth will be carried on. . . . She is not dead, but lives on in the hearts of many men and women.

Village Safety Council Works For You

Now that the opening of our schools is approaching, the Safety Council of the Village of Freeport has approached the owners of buses which carry our school children with a view to having them call in some way more attention to motorists the fact that these buses are school buses. A stop sign which swings out from the side of the bus has been rejected by the bus owners as they feel it is too expensive to install. However they have agreed to have signs painted in large letters on the rear of their buses reading "SCHOOL BUS—DO NOT PASS WHEN STOPPED."

The Safety Council has also recommended to the Village Board that signs, such as are seen on highways all over the state advising motorists not to pass a stopped school bus from either direction, be placed at various points along our regular school bus routes.

The council felt too that there was a serious safety hazard at Atlantic and Bayview aves. and recommended that "No parking" signs be installed on Atlantic ave. at this point 40 feet east and west of Bayview ave.

Our Police Department, and the Council have been cooperating in endeavoring to stop the racing driving of many of our young folks in so called "Hot rod" cars. This is a serious nuisance in many towns and villages throughout the county and we in Freeport do not want to be numbered among these.

Auto owners in the Village have probably noticed the new stop signs which have been installed in the Village. These are the latest design. In fact it is only now that New York City has decided to use these same type signs.

Many of you who drive cars probably are annoyed by the numerous stop signs we have in Freeport. However before any stop sign was erected its location was determined as necessary by the Safety Council and the Police Department from a study of its accident reports. It may be annoying to stop when you are in a hurry but if it will prevent one accident it is worth it. After all a minute lost may be a lifetime gained.

Your Village Safety Council is constantly on the look out to provide for the safety of the residents of Freeport but the men who give their time freely to this work cannot know all of the hazards which exist.

If you as a citizen of this Village have any suggestions which you feel may save the lives or property of other residents or prevent injury the Freeport Safety Council would like to have them write SAFETY COUNCIL, Municipal Building, Village of Freeport and your suggestions will be promptly considered.

Leader Visits 'Indoor' Lawn Party Of South Nassau Hospital Auxiliary

Freeport boasts of one of the largest and most active auxiliaries of the South Nassau Communities Hospital, Oceanside, which is now engaged in a $1250,000 expansion campaign. Organized 20 years ago by Mrs. Robert H. Aaron, who served as president for two years, the auxiliary has raised thousands of dollars not only for the support of the institution, but for supplying many facilities. Last year the local auxiliary raised funds to finance the air conditioning of the operating room and in recent years it also supplied an operating table.

The group, under the direction of Mrs. Gordon F. Waaser, who is serving her second year as president, has pledged itself to raise $6,000 for a nursery and $5,600 for quipping a four-bed ward, in the enlarged institution of a total of $11,600, which is a considerable task for a group of women to undertake.

As one of a series of events, the Auxiliary last week planned a lawn party on the grounds of the home of Mrs. Waaser, 378 Pennsylvania ave. The day proved inclement, so the festivities had to be transferred to the Waaser home, but everyone had a good time just the same. Games were played and feature was the White Elephant table.

Besides Mrs. Waaser the 1950 officers of the auxiliary are Mrs. Bennett Minton, Jr., and Mrs. John J. Zender, vice-presidents; Mrs. Theodore Spitzler, corresponding secretary; Miss Miriam L. Myers, recording secretary; Mrs. Bernard Brokaw, treasurer; Mrs. Alfred J. Brady, historian, and Mrs. William Strohsahl, who has served as hospital supplies chairman ever since the group was organized.

Mrs. Aaron recalls that the first project of the auxiliary was to join with other auxiliaries in promoting a card party for the benefit of the hospital. After serving for two years as president, Mrs. Aaron was drafted again to head the Auxiliary during its tenth year. Other early presidents were Mrs. Rose Mason, Mrs. Arthur C. Ray, Mrs. Frank L. Varmus, Mrs. Henry A. Sutter, and Mrs. Joseph H. Gallo, while those who have served in recent years, most of whom are still active, are Mrs. William J. Martin, sr., Mrs. Frank Muller, Miss Myers, Mrs. Paul Georgi, and now Mrs. Waaser.

Plans are under way for an active season starting in the fall. Meetings of the Auxiliary are held the fourth Tuesday of each month in the Freeport Elks clubhouse.

COMING BACK MONDAY?

Hundreds Killed! ————— Thousands Injured!

You didn't read of this disaster in your local paper — it wasn't there. Those killed and injured were working men and women all across the nation who were accident victims on the highways of America over a recent week-end.

This is the average toll each and every week-end and at year's end the total is enormous.

What Can We Do About It?
